It is seriously an opportunity to get to know amazing people very, very well; understand and experience the logistics of running a musical ensemble; hone musical composition, arrangement, and choreography skills; and learn music in a framework outside of traditional Western music.”
- “Stanford Taiko is one of the most powerful sources of community on campus, and can continue providing that sense of community for the rest of your life.”

Other advice for getting involved at Stanford:

- “Freshmen year is so, so important to just explore not only Stanford but also yourself. While you may feel the need to hit the ground running, instead take the time to be present and build intentionality into your life.”
